

Timothy Gell

My name is Timothy Gell. I am currently the Ambassador for the National Shooting Sports Program (NSSP). I am 16 years old and in the 11th grade of Homeschool. I live in Johnson City, Texas, just outside of Austin. I have lived with my parents on the same property of 11 acres all of my life. I have been raised hunting, fishing, shooting and camping. I love all the outdoor activities of shooting rifles, handguns, shotguns, muzzleloaders, and archery.

Royal Rangers has been a very big part of my raising. I have earned the Royal Rangers Gold Medal of Achievement with Merit. I am currently in the Expedition Rangers class at my Church at GT Austin. I plan on completing everything in that class to achieve the RR GMA with Honor. I currently hold the position of Territorial Scout of the Plainsmen Territory in the Frontiersmen Camping Fellowship (FCF). I have participated and won many Chapter, Territorial, and National events. The last one was Territorial Rendezvous in New Mexico, winning Overall Young Buck, which included a new .45 Caliber Muzzleloader as the prize.

Outside of Royal Rangers, I am a Black Belt in Tae Kwon Do. It took 7 long years of hard work to achieve the Black Belt. I am still involved in our Tae Kwon Do classes.

It is an absolute honor to be the Ambassador of the NSSP. My goal as the Ambassador is to get more boys involved in Shooting Sports, and getting the Dads involved with their sons like my Dad has done for me. It is very important for Dads to be involved. Sons need to be taught the proper use and safety of firearms, as well as strong ethics in hunting.

As an adult, I would ultimately love to be a Texas Game Warden. Beginning with Security and Law Enforcement, this dream could be accomplished.
